

Campbell House Internship

The Northwest Museum of Arts and Culture is currently offering a volunteer or for-credit internship in the historic Campbell House. This is an opportunity ideal for current students pursuing a degree in history, public history, museum studies, or education. The internship will be 8-12 hours per week, and the intern will focus on giving the public guided tours of the historic Campbell House. We are willing to work with your schedule as much as possible, but it should be noted that the Campbell House is only open from 12 PM – 4 PM Tuesday-Sunday.

This is an Opportunity to:

- Gain experience working in a professional environment
- Receive advice and mentorship from museum staff
- Earn college credit

Required Qualifications

- Comfortable and confident working with the public
- Ability to absorb and retain new information

Preferred Qualifications

- Customer service or tour guide experience

About the MAC

The Northwest Museum of Arts & Culture (MAC) seeks to engage our audiences in the appreciation of art, history, and culture of the Inland Northwest and beyond through collection stewardship, exhibitions, and programs that enrich and inspire. Established in 1916, the MAC is the oldest cultural organization in Spokane, Washington, and serves over 100,000 visitors each year from eastern Washington, northern Idaho, western Montana and southern Alberta. The museum collections contain over 63,000 objects, including the largest known collection of Plateau tribe art and artifacts.
